Story time?

the Chinese Student Association can restore its greatness again.

The Black Turtle clan could not escape due to their slow and unresponsive actions. Only three remained due their hiding and uncommon speediness. The White Tiger clan leaders ultimately contracted the graduation and boredom disease respectively as well. Seeing this, they knew they had to send their children off into the wild to keep their bloodline pure. However, the youngest couldn't keep causing a separation between the other two. The Red Phoenix clan was barely saved through the drought due to their ability to rise from the ashes. Only one family line, headed by Geoffrey Lim remained to continue the legacy. The blue dragons initially lived together in their kingdom where they raised their family lines and nurturing healthy descendants. However, they soon realized that the other clans had been struck by the drought and knew they had to do something.

The first blue dragon, Karen Kong, flew throughout the different areas and found two black turtles and two white tigers roaming around the area. She adopted them into the family line and settled down in a forest where they could all roam around freely to their choosing. The second blue dragon, Abby Kaye, flew outside the mainland search for any descendants. There it found the stray small white tiger and other black turtle. With its two new descendants, the blue dragon settled in the
