

The background of the image is a dense field of glowing jack-o'-lanterns. The pumpkins are carved with various designs, including faces with triangular eyes and mouths, and some with more intricate patterns. The light from the candles inside the pumpkins creates a warm, orange and yellow glow that fills the scene. The overall atmosphere is festive and spooky, typical of a Halloween celebration.

Spoopy Big/Little Reveal
October 30, 2017

The background of the slide is a dense collection of glowing jack-o'-lanterns. The pumpkins are carved with various faces, some with triangular eyes and jagged mouths, and they are illuminated from within, casting a warm, orange glow. The scene is set against a dark background, possibly outdoors at night, with some blurred lights in the distance.

Hayden Lounge

An aerial photograph of a university campus. In the center is a large, well-maintained green lawn. To the left, there are several multi-story brick buildings with many windows. To the right, there are large, mature trees with green foliage. A paved walkway or road curves through the lawn area, with several people walking. The entire scene is captured from a high angle, providing a comprehensive view of the campus layout.

KOREAN SCARY TIME

Gettin redy 4 da spooks

What makes Asian Horror so scary?

- Western horror is more shallow in general, relying on jump scares and gore

- Asian horror goes beyond that, digging deeper into what truly scares us

Korean Urban Legends

- Toilet Paper Ghost
 - Legend suggests ghosts live in toilets
 - A ghost may stick its hand out and ask if you want red toilet paper or blue:
 - BLUE means the ghost will suffocate you
 - RED means the ghost will cut you up
