- Book Keeping things
 - Spring budget approved with no cuts
 - We will be sponsoring the Shadow Cast society
 - Marcus Baker has been hired as our Music Director
- Musical Talk
 - Current suggestions are in the GBM PowerPoint
 - Wedding Singer was looked at a few years back, and no one auditioned
 - Times have changed, but good to consider
 - “Challenging” – this is debatable
 - Opinion to play towards our strengths
 - Try to highlight our strengths
 - Tech involvement is a concern
 - It has been learned that you can RENT the sets of musicals
 - Try to do a show that caters to theater students
 - Proposed: How to Succeed..., West Side Story, Bat Boy
 - The Producers – may be out of the scope of the society at this moment
 - Point:
 - Sweeney Todd: Sondheim, LOVE SONDHEIM YAAAAAAAAAAS
 - Merrily We Roll Along – Marcus really liked that
 - Rock of Ages – TAP might be considering this, awkward
 - Drowsy Chaperone – phenomenal and quirky, hilarious
 - Cast well split male and female
 - Music is pseudo-Guys & Dolls
 - Set – a house / apt. that turns into a musical set
 - Fun to put together, quirky bachelor pad
 - Rock musicals – worried about the voices
 - Feel like with what we have, the music would sound weak

- Think that rock musical will bring out rock voices
- Rent – popular name
- Advertise for auditions via table sitting
- Avenue Q – don't have to do the double casting
 - It is something that people would want to see
 - We are sure people of appropriate
- Be mindful of the preconceived notions of certain shows
- The Wedding Singer – pop musical, though it has a history with the society, should give it a chance
 - Keep it in mind
- Rocky Horror as a suggestion
- Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat
- YAGMCB – think we have the voices for this
 - May not guarantee the audience we want
- Cabaret – a spectacle, would be cool to see
 - Dancing yes, but fun
 - Gives a “trashy” vibe
