

Explore Nomura

Freshman & Sophomore Diversity Program

Build your network and advance your career with Nomura

Explore Nomura is an Early Insights program designed to provide diverse Freshman & Sophomores with broad exposure to careers in Investment Banking, Global Markets and Corporate Infrastructure.

About the program

Explore Nomura is a two-week virtual series, in which selected students will opt-in to sessions of their respective interests and division.

Over the course of the program students will be able to:

- Participate in immersive training sessions including a fundamental overview of financial markets, real-life trading and technology simulations, personal branding and soft skills workshops, and more!
- Meet and network with experienced professionals to learn more about personal career journeys and gain deeper insight into different functions at Nomura
- Cultivate valuable skills with an opportunity to interview for our 2022 summer internship programs

Who should apply

Undergraduate freshman and sophomores who also identify as members of the following communities are encouraged to apply: Women, Black, Latinx, Native American, LGBTQ+, Veterans, and Students with Disabilities.

How to apply

Applications are open through our recruiting website. In order to be considered for the program, please submit the latest copy of your resume and respond thoughtfully to both of our application prompts. Each candidate is eligible to apply for one Explore Program.
